

ALHomecare 2023 Calendar

A very special thank you to all our carers for their wonderful work and dedication.

The 12 photos taken for this calendar were the winning photos chosen from a competition that we held recently for our carers.

We asked our carers to take a photo of their favourite place in Ireland and explain why it is special to them.

We hope 2023 will bring all our clients, carers and their families health, happiness and love.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from Tom Quinlan and the whole ALHomecare Team!

The one and only Wicklow

“Port Oriel located in the small village of Clogherhead is definitely my favourite place in Ireland. Every week I try to spend some time there, watching the seals, seagulls, fishermen or just the waves on the sea.

This place helps to clear my head. I love to have a meal - fresh and delicious fish - at the cliff. There, I feel like a part of wild nature. Everyone is invited to join me!”

“The place I’ve chosen is a small park nearby my client’s house, and it’s my favourite place because despite being inside the city, you can feel the nature here. I love coming here on my breaks and sitting down on the grass and reading a book, watching the sunset or just taking a walk around. I also love to sit and just listen to the birds singing.”

"Ireland was love at first sight, grateful for where I am, excited about where I will get to! Life is like a camera: focus on what is important, capture good times, develop life from negatives. I, if things don't work out, take another picture! Don't forget to be happy in the process..."

It is a beautiful place and transmits peace and tranquility to me so from an early age it has become one of my favourite places and I have wanted to visit and get to know it ever since then.”*

“This is the bottom of the sea in Strandhill, County Sligo. It is special for me because I haven’t been to the seaside for two years. My first day off, the weather was a true blessing and I had a picnic on the seashore, breathing in mild warm air with just a shadow of a breeze, taking regular photos of the upcoming tide and enjoying every minute of it. The picture of the sea bottom reminds me of the surface of the Moon or some other unusual world. :)”
